

JOHN & GENISE ETHNOS360

Description of Ministry

Genise and John Anderson have been serving with Ethnos360 (formally called New Tribes Mission) for over 40 years now. Even though we have had many different “job descriptions” over the years each one was with the goal of supporting the purpose of seeing a thriving church for every people group. Presently we serve as Member Care Facilitators. Specifically, our job is to provide help and encouragement to our fellow Ethnos360 missionaries we are assigned to. This is done in several different ways. Some of which are phone calls, emails, video calls, providing life coaching, offering crisis debriefing, or self-assessments, and personal visits either here in the States or in the country where they might be serving. Often these fellow missionaries live and work in very difficult situations and could use a listening ear and reminder of dependence on the Lord.
